This is the title[†]

Full Name,*[a] Full Name,[b‡] and Full Name[a]

The abstract should be a single paragraph which summarises the content of the article. Any references in the abstract should be written out in full e.g. [Surname et al., Journal Title, 2000, 35, 3523].

The main text of the article[?] should appear here. Headings and subheadings are not permitted in articles submitted to Chemical Communications, with the exception of "Conflicts of interest", "Data availability" and "Notes and references".

Chemical Communications has a four page limit, therefore following editing and production, your article may require shortening. To assist with this please do not alter font sizes or styles as this may delay publication of your article.

Equations can be typeset inline e.g. $y = mx + c$ or displayed with and without numbers:

$$A = \pi r^2$$

cream
black

$$\frac{\gamma}{\epsilon x} r^2 = 2r \tag{1}$$

Graphics should be inserted on the page where they are first mentioned (unless they are equations, which appear in the flow of the text).[?]

Fig. 1: An example figure.

Tables typeset in RSC house style do not include vertical lines. Table footnote symbols are lower-case italic letters and are typeset at the bottom of the table. Table captions do not end in a full point.[?, **?]

Tabel 1: An example of a caption to accompany a table

Header one/units	Header two	Header three
1	2	3
4	5	6
7	8	9
10	11	12

Adding notes to tables can be complicated. Perhaps the easiest method is to generate these manually.

You can also put lists into the text. You can have bulleted or numbered lists of almost any kind. The `mhchem` package can also be used so that formulae are easy to input: `\ce{H2SO4}` gives H2SO4.

The conclusions section should come at the end of article.
